

David J Cohen, MD    Skin Care Physicians of Georgia, Macon GA

Dr. David J. Cohen is a graduate of Emory University School of Medicine in Atlanta and served as Chief Resident prior to receiving his Board Certification in Dermatology. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology and is also Board Certified in Internal Medicine. He serves as Chief of Dermatology and Assistant Clinical Professor at Mercer University School of Medicine in Macon.

Dr. Cohen has been a partner and owner of Skin Care Physicians of Georgia for the last 24 years where he specializes in difficult skin conditions and clinical trials. Dr. Cohen also performs surgical procedures including excisions and MOHS repairs, as well as numerous cosmetic procedures. He has extensive training in treating psoriasis and atopic dermatitis patients with biologic therapy, ultraviolet light therapy and systemic treatments.

He has served as the Principal Investigator in over 30 clinical trials and has over 50 publications in peer-reviewed journals. Dr. Cohen also enjoys teaching students and residents and has extensive lecture experience including Grand Rounds, Resident Teaching and Continuing Medical Education at conferences. He serves as President of the Middle Georgia Journal Club and is a member of the National Psoriasis Foundation.