

Emily C. Milam, MD

Position Nominated for:

Board of Director

Present Academic and/or Clinical Affiliations:

Assistant Professor of Dermatology, NYU Langone Health,
Department of Dermatology

Medical School:

NYU School of Medicine; 2016

Residency Program:

NYU Department of Dermatology; 2020

Board Certification:

American Board of Dermatology, expires 2030

ACDS Activities:

ACDS Interactive Media Committee, April 2021 to present

Other national, state and local dermatology/professional societies:

American Academy of Dermatology, diplomate 2020

American Contact Dermatitis Society, member 2020 - present

Medical Society, government or professional appointments, awards and honors:

NYU Skin & Cancer Clinic, Associate Director

AAD Clinical Guidelines Committee, 2018-2021

Candidate Statement:

I developed an interest in contact dermatitis in residency under the mentorship of Dr. David Cohen. I have since expanded my involvement and knowledge, and presently perform patch testing as a faculty member at NYU. I have authored over 10 articles pertaining to contact dermatitis in high impact journals (Dermatitis, JACI, JAMA Dermatology) and participate in the ACDS Interactive Media Committee. I would love the opportunity to become more involved in the ACDS on a national level.

